Parent Focus Group

Do you have a child aged 11-14 years?
Are they interested in science?
Might they be interested in a career in science?
Would you like help to support them to find out about science careers?
Then the Francis Crick Institute needs you!

Our next exhibition and events programme will be an enticing behind the scenes look at how science research happens. It will showcase the range of technical and engineering jobs that support scientific research at the Crick. We need your help to make sure we provide the information that will help young people get a better idea of the variety of careers in science.

We are running a focus group at the Crick for parents of 11-14 year olds and there are just 6 places available. If you would like to take part in the focus group to hear about our new programme and tell us about what you need to support your child to get a job in science, please reserve your place by emailing Emma at emma@emmapegam.co.uk
